COOKING GUIDELINES

Section: Residential Facilities

Policy: Residents, staff and guests who cook in residential facilities must abide by appliance and area use guidelines outlined in the Community Guide.

Purpose: The purpose of this policy is to provide safe cooking guidelines within University Housing.

Scope: This policy applies to residents, guests and staff of University Housing.

Procedure:

   - Sealed-unit coffee makers without a heated plate
   - Sealed-unit popcorn poppers
   - Toasters
   - Microwaves (not to exceed 1 cubic foot and 700 watts)

II. Kitchens are provided in each residence hall, the East Campus Village apartments, University Village apartments, McGowan townhouses, the Gilmore Circle homes, and the staff apartment in the residence halls.

III. As well as the appliances listed above, the following appliances can be used in the apartment or community kitchens.
   - Hot pots
   - Crock pots
   - Air Fryers

IV. Food being prepared and cooked must not be left unattended.

V. Kitchens should be kept clean upon completion of use. Cleanliness is essential due to the problems that unsanitary conditions create (e.g. odors, pests). Residents are held responsible for any damages or excessive clean-up charges resulting from cooking.
